

Eco-Tips Workshop to Save Money

In your homes:

SATURDAY FEBRUARY 4TH

2.00PM TO 4.00PM

AT VINE URC, 1 HOLSTOCK RD, IG11LG

This is a workshop to explain how eco-tips can help us reduce our living costs:

The workshop will explain:

- How to reduce electricity bills
- How to reduce heating bills
- How to reduce water-bills
- How to reduce transport costs
- How to reduce food costs
- How to reduce other general and shopping costs.

The workshop will be run by Donnachadh McCarthy FRSA and is funded by the City Bridge Trust. Donnachadh has worked for over 10 years as a professional eco-auditor advising charities and businesses on how to reduce their running costs by going green.

He is the author of two books on the subject "Saving the Planet without Costing the Earth" and "Easy Eco-Auditing" and is a widely published eco-journalist. He wrote the Home Ecologist column for the Independent and is a frequent eco-contributor on many national TV and Radio Programmes including Its BBC's "Not Easy Being Green" and ITVs "How Green is Your Home".

His terraced Victorian house in Peckham was London's first carbon negative home. It has solar electric, solar hot-water, rain-harvester, composting loo, triple glazing, wood-burner and solid wall insulation. His annual gas-bill is £12!
