

Faith Festivals April 2019

3rd April (Wednesday) is The Prophet's Night Journey and Ascent/Lailat Ul Isra Wa-L-Miraj for our Muslim friends. This festival celebrates the journey of the Prophet Muhammad, in the tenth year of his prophethood, from Makkah to Jerusalem, and through the heavens to the presence of God, all in one night. On this night Muslims believe the Prophet received the command that they should pray five times each day. The rock in Jerusalem from which the Prophet ascended is now contained in the Dome of the Rock. Muslims mark this night by reading the Qur'an and saying additional prayers.

7th April (Sunday) is Passion Sunday Christian for our Christian friends. This is the 5th Sunday in Lent, when Christians begin to concentrate their thoughts on the Passion or suffering of Jesus.

8th April (Sunday) is HANAMATSURI Buddhist (Japanese) for our Buddhist friends. Mahayana flower festival to celebrate the Buddha Shakyamuni's birthday. Shrines are erected and an image of the infant Buddha is bathed. Theravadins celebrate Buddha's birth, enlightenment and passing away later in the year, at the full moon in May.

13th April (Saturday) SONGKRAN is Buddhist Traditional New Year's Day festival in Thailand. Containers of water are thrown as a symbol of washing away all that is evil. Fragrant herbs are often placed in the water jug or bucket.

14th April (Sunday) VAISAKHI/BAISAKHI – The Sikh New Year Festival 14th April is Vaisakhi /Baisakhi for our Sikh friends. Vaisakhi, the Sikh New Year, is the holiest day of the calendar for over 20m Sikhs worldwide it is of particular importance for the Sikh community and farmers of Punjab and Haryana. On this day in 1699, Sikhism was born as a collective faith. Guru Gobind Singh Ji, the 10th Master of the Sikhs, initiated the Sikhs as the Khalsa or the pure and sincere. He bound the Sikhs to a strict code of conduct and, with uncut hair, beard and turban, gave the Sikhs a distinct identity. The celebration of Vaisakhi takes the form of continuous reading of the Sikh Scripture, the Guru Granth Sahib Ji, over a period of three days. That is followed by the recitation of sacred hymns. The service ends with a final prayer for the good and well-being of the whole of humanity, and the serving of sacramental food. Source

14th April (Sunday) RAMA NAVAMI Hindu is for our Hindu friends. Ram Navami is the celebration of the birthday of Rama, a divine figure in Hinduism. On this festival people perform Kalyanotsavam (marriage celebration) with small images of Rama and Sita in their houses, and at the end of the day the deity is taken to a procession on the streets.

14th April (Sunday) to 20th April (Saturday) Holy week is for our Christian friends. This is the most solemn week of the Christian year, in which Christians recall the events of the final week of the earthly life of Jesus.

17th April (Wednesday) is Mahavira Jayanti (599 BCE) Jain. This day is the birthday of the last Tirthankara or great teacher and model of the Jains. His birth and the events surrounding it are re-enacted. Monks or nuns read from the scriptures and teach about the rest of Mahavira's life. Lay people then return home to a celebratory feast. <http://www.interfaith.org.uk/resources/2017-religious-festivals/march>

18th April (Thursday) MAUNDY THURSDAY Christian (Western Churches)

Christians remember the Last Supper when Jesus blessed bread and wine and commanded his disciples to remember him whenever they did this. The name 'maundy' comes from a Latin term 'mandatum' ('commandment'), signifying Jesus' new commandment to his disciples, as recorded in John 15:17.

19th April is Good (Holy) Friday for our Christian friends. Good Friday commemorates the crucifixion of Jesus Christ following his time in the desert and his triumphal re-entrance into Jerusalem. This is a very important event in many Christian churches and is seen by some as the foundation of the Religion. Many churches hold special services on Good Friday to remind their congregations about Christ's suffering. Good Friday falls on the Friday before the first Sunday after the first full moon on or after the vernal equinox. Many people in different countries observe this anniversary which involves fasting and praying. Many church services are held in the afternoon, usually around noon or midday to 3pm, to remember the hours when Jesus hung on the cross. Many churches also observe the day by re-enacting the procession of the cross as in the ritual of the Stations of the Cross, which depicts the final hours of Jesus' life. Processions are held in many countries such as India, Italy, Malta, the Philippines, and Spain. Specifically in the United Kingdom, the day is a bank holiday. People who regularly attend church will probably attend a special church service on Good Friday. Many Catholics do not eat meat on Good Friday. This means that, in some areas, it is common to eat fish on this day. It is traditional for all denominations to eat hot cross buns. There are a number of theories as to why the day marking the crucifixion of Jesus is known as "Good" Friday. The word 'Good' may be a different spelling or rendering of 'God' or it may have another, now lost, meaning of 'holy'. Another theory is that the tragedy of the crucifixion of Jesus brought great 'good' to his followers. Source: <http://www.timeanddate.com/holidays/uk/good-friday>

19th April (Friday) Hanuman Jayanti is for our Hindu friends. This Hindu festival recalls the birth of Lord Rama's supreme devotee, the monkey-headed Hanuman, whose feats figure in the Ramayana epic. Hanuman's birth is celebrated at sunrise on the full-moon day of the lunar month of Chaitra.

19th April – 27th April Passover/ Pesach for our Jewish friends. This major Jewish festival lasts eight days and commemorates the liberation of the Children of Israel and their Exodus from slavery in Egypt. The highlight is the Seder meal, held in each family's home at the beginning of the festival, when the story of their deliverance is recounted, as narrated in the Haggadah (the Telling, or the Story). Matzah, (unleavened bread) is eaten throughout the festival, as are other foods that contain no leaven (yeast). There is a major spring cleaning in the home shortly before the festival to ensure that no trace of leaven is left in the house during Pesach. Coconut pyramids and matza balls (which are put in soups) are foods that might be eaten at this time.

20th April is HOLY SATURDAY (Easter Eve) Christian. This is the last day of Lent. Special services involving the lighting of the Paschal Candle and the renewal of baptismal vows take place in the evening in preparation for Easter.

20th April is The Prophet's Night Journey and Ascent/Lailat Ul Isra Wa-L-Miraj for our Muslim friends. This festival celebrates the journey of the Prophet Muhammad, in the tenth year of his prophethood, from Makkah to Jerusalem, and through the heavens to the presence of God, all in one night. On this night Muslims believe the Prophet received the command that they should pray five times each day. 21st April (Sunday) is Easter Day for all our Christian friends. The culmination of the Holy week Easter commemorates the resurrection of Jesus Christ. It is the most important Christian festival, and the one celebrated with the greatest joy. The date of Easter changes each year, and several other Christian festivals fix their dates by reference to Easter. Churches are filled with flowers, and there are special hymns and songs. The Easter story is at the heart of Christianity. On Good Friday, Jesus Christ was executed by crucifixion. His body was taken down from the cross, and buried in a cave. The tomb was guarded and an enormous stone was put over the entrance, so that no-one could steal the body. On the following Sunday, some women visited the grave and found that the stone had been moved, and that the tomb was empty. Jesus himself was seen that day, and for days afterwards by many people. His followers realised that God had raised Jesus from the dead. The resurrection of Jesus Christ is the centrepiece of the Christian faith. The Apostle Paul even goes so far to say that if Jesus Christ has not been resurrected then the Christian faith is worthless and futile (1 Cor. 15:14-17). Therefore, without Easter there is no Christianity. Easter is the oldest Christian holiday and the most important day of the church year. All the Christian movable feasts and the entire liturgical year of worship are arranged around Easter. Easter is preceded by the season of Lent, a 40-day period of fasting and repentance culminating in Holy Week, and followed by a 50-day Easter Season that stretches from Easter to Pentecost. 21st April (Sunday) - 2 May (Thursday) RIDVAN Baha’I is Ridvan for our Baha’I friends. This is the most important Baha’i festival. In these 12 days, in the garden outside Baghdad after which the festival is named, Baha’u’llah declared himself the Promised One, prophesied by the Bab. The first, ninth and twelfth days are especially significant and are holy days, when no work is done. It is during this period that Bahai’s elect all their governing bodies.

23rd April is St George’s Day, "St George's Day in England remembers St George, England's patron saint. The anniversary of his death, which is on April 23, is seen as England's national day. According to legend, he was a soldier in the Roman army who killed a dragon and saved a princess. Many people in England don't observe nor know when the national day is at all. However, in recent years, celebrating St George's Day seems to gradually be regaining popularity in England. From the 15th century, St George's Day used to be a national holiday in England, and was celebrated as widely as Christmas. But the celebrations waned by the end of the 18th century after England had united with Scotland on May 1, 1707. Compared to national day festivities in other countries worldwide, England's national day is not widely celebrated. One exception is in the city of Salisbury, where there's an annual St George's Day pageant, which historians believe dates back to the 13th century. Flags with the image of St George's cross are flown on some buildings, especially pubs, and a few people wear a red rose on their lapel. Source <http://www.timeanddate.com/holidays/uk/st-george-day>.
